

I used to get at least 10 calls a day from telemarketers. It was frustrating to stop my activity and answer the phone. A majority of the time no one was on the line. Since signing for the Indiana No call list, I may get one call a week. With two young children and one on the way, I enjoy my phone not ringing. If telemarketers think that calling me is beneficial for their business, they are sadly mistaken. I will not purchase anything over the phone and I will not send money in support of their organization. Thank you for letting me express my comments.
